

Kit202 - Assignment 1 - ER Diagram

There are three type of user in entity account details.

If the user type of the account is host, there will be a host details entity belong to it. The host can share accommodations, receive review and rate provided by the clients. The accommodations will also obtain review and rate provided by the clients. Host can also communicate with client via inbox.

If the user type of the account is client, the client can request lots of booking and invite many guest to join it. A guest can join many booking. The client can pay with their unsaved or saved credit cards, the client can also provide review and rate to the host and accommodation. The client can communicate with host through inbox.

If the user type of the account is system manager, it will have the highest access level, be able to view, edit and delete the accommodation, and view, add and delete existing user. System manager can also delete the review provided by client